

The following pages is a sampling of a Kith and Kin book created for a birthday.

Designing books is hard. Designing books with a mix of photos and text is doubly hard. Designing books with varying lengths of text and types of photos feels impossible.

Some people have a lot to say, and others can sum it up in a few short sentences. Both are welcome and accommodated in a Kith and Kin book. Our software automatically generates the layout of each page to bring a balance of color and text. This means no pages become a wall of size 9 font, while others feel completely bare.

That means you can focus on the important part, which is ensuring that the people that love this person the most have a chance to offer their well wishes, thoughts, wisdom, stories, and advice so they can be flipped through for decades to come.
